

GOP Claims:	The people have spoken. The people voted for it. This is what the people want. The majority of people want this. The people sent a powerful mandate.
Example Rebuttals:	1 The people didn't vote to have the president break the law. 2 There are 242 million people eligible to vote and Trump only got 77 Million which is only 31% of all eligible voters. The majority of people didn't vote for this or even Trump for that matter. 3 Trump got less than 50% of all the votes from people that voted, so the majority of people didn't say they want this.
Their retort	1 The president isn't breaking the law 2 Well Trump won the election so this is what the people want.
Secondary Rebuttal	1 The president is using an executive order to bypass our constitution and the courts have already ruled against some of his attempts 2 Your claim was this is what the majority of people want. The math indicates that your claim is false.
